

The 50k trimpot is to balance the CV across the two OTAs, best is to monitor the two outputs with an oscilloscope and set the trimpot so the BP and LP outputs are about the same amplitude.

Turning up the RES/Q pot will get the module to self-oscillate, if you turn the pot too high the signal clips. Turn to around 8-9 to get a nice sinewave.

